

PSYCHOLOGY A - LEVEL

READING LIST

There is no one particular book that students need to read before starting A-Level Psychology.

A good starting point for any psychologist is to read up on Psychology Research Methods.

Any book which is for the OCR A-Level specification is a good starting point to introduce you to the subject, and any A-Level Psychology Research Methods book.

These textbooks are intended to support your learning and are not compulsory to purchase.

Copies can be obtained from your department or the library

Financial support is available to bursary students wishing to purchase